For more than 18 years Climbing New Zealand has organised New Zealand's premier sport climbing competition series and National Championships. Climbing New Zealand is affiliated with the International Sport Climbing Federation and is sanctioned to run IFSC events in New Zealand and Oceania. The series comprises sport climbing, bouldering, speed climbing and para-climbing. The events feature New Zealand's top climbers and are used as the qualification for the World Championships and Olympics. For many young climbers the IFSC World Youth Championships is the pinnacle of their sporting career.

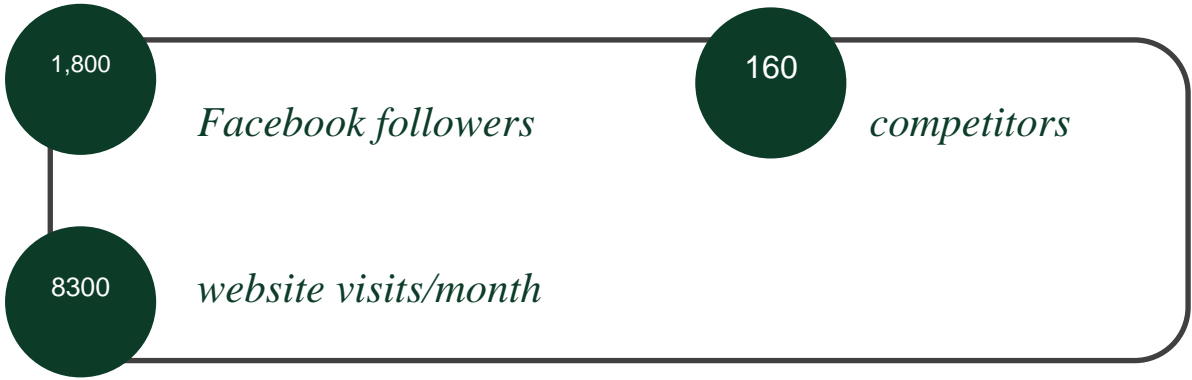

LAST YEAR'S EVENTS

The 2018 series included 5 events: lead climbing competitions in Rotorua, and Auckland and bouldering competitions in Mt Maunganui, Wellington and Hamilton.

A number of athletes competed in international competitions in Moscow Russia, Hachioji Japan, Vail US, and Innsbruck Austria. We were thrilled to see Rachel Maia's 4th place in the World Paraclimbing Championship.

More than 500 entries were received across the five events.
